Title: Social Scientists (Junior-, Mid-, and Senior-Level)
Company: CAMRIS International

Overview:
CAMRIS International is a growing international development and research firm that realizes innovative solutions to health and development challenges through high-quality, cost-effective program and research management services. With experience working in more than 80 countries, we combine our proven systems with today’s most effective, evidence-based best practices to improve the lives of people around the world. We apply a customized, customer-centric, cost-effective business approach to offer greater value to our clients and challenge the way things have always been done in our field.
We are seeking junior-, mid-, and senior-level Social Scientists to provide analytical and support services to inform the design and implementation of US Agency for International Development (USAID)-funded programs to strengthen democracy and governance worldwide. Social Scientists will support USAID organizational entities (bureaus, missions, and offices), other US agencies, and host country organizations (including government and non-governmental organizations). This is an anticipated indefinite quantity contract. Positions are contingent on funding from USAID.

Responsibilities:
Social Scientists will provide analysis, advice and guidance based on education in and/or practical knowledge of anthropology, economics, social history, law, political science, sociology and/or related disciplines.

Qualifications:
- Senior Staff: Must have a PhD and 8 years of relevant work experience, or a JD/ABD and 10 years of relevant work experience, or a MS/MA/MB and 12 years of relevant work experience, or a BS/BA and 15 years of relevant work experience.
- Mid-Level Staff: Must have a PhD and 3 years of relevant work experience, or a JD/ABD and 5 years of relevant work experience, or a MS/MA/MB and 6 years of relevant work experience, or a BS/BA and 8 years of relevant experience.
- Junior-Level Staff: Must have a BS/BA and 2 years of relevant work experience.

All Staff:
- Demonstrated technical expertise in political science, economics, law, anthropology, social history, sociology, or related fields.
- Excellent written and oral communication skills.
- Ability to analyze and evaluate qualitative and quantitative information.
- Knowledge of data analysis and statistical software programs is preferred.
- Strong cross-cultural and interpersonal skills, including the ability to establish and maintain effective working relationships.
- Ability to work independently with minimal supervision and in teams.
- Fluency in English is required. Fluency in a second language is preferred.
- Strong organizational and time-management skills. Ability to set and prioritize deadlines.
- Proficiency in MS Office and Google Applications.
- Experience with USAID is highly preferred.
