

Title: Qualitative / Quantitative Research Manager – Social Scientist

Organization Name: Information International Associates

Duty Location: Springfield, Virginia

Job Summary

Experience Level: Minimum of 7 - 10 years' experience with social science research methodologies within the government industry. Experience working on customer locations within the Intelligence Community (IC) including familiarity using IC classified networks. Demonstrated proficiency working at an executive level within a government customer's organization providing timely and concise recommendations along with daily interaction. Education: Advanced degree, PhD in a social science field or closely related specialty. Technical Skills: The successful candidate for Social Scientist will be responsible for selecting the appropriate research methodology, supporting techniques, to meet defined business objectives of the client as well as assists in Human Subjects Research compliance processes. The Social Scientist develops or assists in the development of research instruments that meet client needs. The Social Scientist works closely with the client and ensures the successful execution of studies. Upon completion, Social Scientist works with the project team to review the collected data, author reports, and make business-oriented recommendations to the client.

Duties

- Communicating with clients to understand and document their objectives
- Selecting the most appropriate research methodology and techniques
- Designing qualitative and quantitative research plans for products in all stages of the inquiry
- Designing research questionnaires and conversation guides
- Interpreting data, writing reports, and making actionable recommendations

Qualification Requirements

- Understanding and application of Human Subjects Research compliance
- Exceptional written and oral communication abilities
- Strong analytic skills
- Proficient with Microsoft Excel, Word, and PowerPoint