

SPSSI-UK

Are you committed to increasing the impact of social and behavioural science beyond academia and informing public policy and debate in the United Kingdom

SIGN UP FOR SPSSI MEMBERSHIP HERE

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

Membership of SPSSI offers many benefits, including ♦Eligibility to apply for grants, fellowships, and awards ♦Access to the membership directory ♦Free subscription to SPSSI’s flagship journals The Journal of Social Issues (JSI), SIPR and ASAP ♦Access to SPSSI-UK activities and events.

International Members may be eligible for reduced-rate dues. The university of Kent is sponsoring 10 graduate memberships ($25 per year) of SPSSI and encourages other UK colleagues to do likewise.

One of SPSSI-UK’s main goals is to produce coordinated and timely responses to social issues happening in the UK, to which increasing its UK based members is essential, so please sign up today!

ABOUT SPSSI-UK

SPSSI-UK is a new development sponsored by the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues (SPSSI) to underline its commitment to internationalise its efforts and to embrace the significant contributions that UK psychological research can make to wider international debates. SPSSI-UK is led by a Steering Committee, which is supported and advised by a Development Group consisting of a much larger set of UK based academics and SPSSI members. SPSSI-UK has been launched in the form of three policy-focused conferences across the UK, which brought together academic researchers and policy specialists who share a common interest in linking theory and practice to address significant social issues affecting the UK. The aim of SPSSI-UK is to encourage public education and evidence-based policy-making and facilitate activities in the UK.

- PLEASE SHARE WITH COLLEAGUES & STUDENTS -

<http://www.spssi.uk>

spssiuk@spssi.org

